

Privileged Access Management (PAM)

Privileged Access Management (PAM) is a solution that secures, controls, manages and monitors privileged access to critical assets. Privileged user accounts and accesses are significant targets for attack as they have elevated permissions, access to confidential information and the ability to change settings. If compromised, a large amount of damage could be made to organizational operations.

We provide solution to implement PAM tools from different vendors.

Kapstone LLC